What can wallboards do for your business?

Xelion's wallboards allow you to monitor business performance in real time. Users can benefit from complete visibility of who is logged into queues, monitor missed calls, and stay up to date with overall communication performance.

How do they work?

Through the Xelion mobile app, Xelion users can manage their wallboard to suit their needs. Whether you work for a large organisation or a smaller enterprise, it's up to you which features you need and how you want to set them up and allocate them.

Various wallboards can be displayed within your team, and team statistics for departments and individuals can be viewed with in real time.

Why use Wallboards?

Wallboards are an excellent tool to support making informed decisions. Teams can see real time data on the go, helping them to improve efficiency and customer experience by optimising call flow and procedures.
